

Funky, fun phonics posters for use with, or after,
the GenkiEnglish.com songs & the Genki Phonics Workbook

GENKID PHONICS!

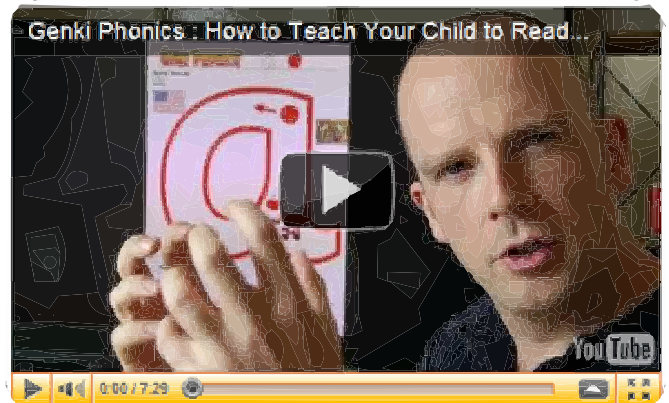

Posters!

Welcome to Genki Phonics!

Before you start using these posters, please look at the videos of how to teach them at www.GenkiPhonics.com

One video is for parents to use at home. The other is for teachers.

Here's a brief overview:

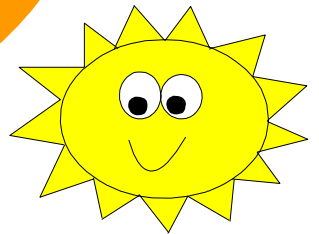

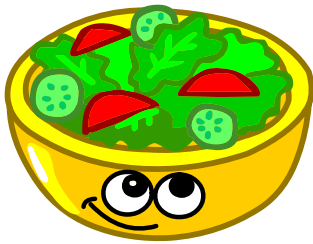

Phonics just means saying the sound of the letter, instead of the "A=ay B=bee C=see" name of the letter.

1. Ask what the pictures are on each page.
2. Ask what they think today's new sound is.
3. When they get it right, show them how to write it by drawing on the big letter whilst making the sound.
4. Take turns writing on the big letter in silly voices!
5. Point to the first letter of the reading word, they say the sound.
6. Point to the next letter of the reading word, they say it.
7. Keep getting faster and faster till they can say the word and get the magic "Aha!" feeling as they know what it says!
8. Practice writing today's letter on the sheet.
9. Review all the sounds at the top of the page. Take it in turns pointing and saying the letters.

Bonus "story covers"

To put on your wall next to the stories, I've added a few bonus "book covers."

Remember, the kids can't read the titles, but they can read the stories!

P.S. They're at the end as you don't have to print them if you don't want, they're just an extra bonus! Enjoy!
